

AT GLOBAL PARTNERS, WE CREATE RESULTS.

Results that enable organizations to create what matters most to them. That help individuals achieve their goals, without compromise.

Results that are based on the use of scientifically-proven techniques and tools, and the leading research in cognitive science, structural dynamics and organizational dynamics. Results founded on proven principles.

We work with, not against, human nature, to produce predictable behaviors. With predetermined results.

At Global Partners, we create results that produce predictable, sustainable growth.

Corporate Profile

AT GLOBAL PARTNERS, WE CREATE RESULTS THROUGH OUR CONSULTING SERVICES.

Results based on knowing how to create effective and successful individuals and organizations. And how to sustain them.

Results that come from helping you identify the purpose of your organization.

Results through the development of the best business strategies. Strategies that support your purpose, and clearly articulate your customer offer. Strategies that demonstrate a deep understanding of the business opportunity. Strategies that support your end result, and give you the means to achieve it.

We create results by a thorough, detailed analysis of your organization's products and services offering. Analysis of who your customers are and what motivates them to buy.

We help you define your offer to the customer. And your business opportunity for the entrepreneur.

At Global Partners, we create measurable, sustainable results through all of our consulting services.

success

AT GLOBAL PARTNERS, WE CREATE RESULTS THROUGH OUR BUSINESS PROCESSES.

Results through custom-tailored business processes. Business processes designed to be the platform for your organization's success.

Results through business processes such as a custom-designed field guide. A field guide that provides individuals with the tools and structure to build a successful, sustainable, profitable organization.

Results by mentoring leaders, setting appropriate expectations and focusing them on the right actions. Teaching them how to effectively team. How to be accountable. How to develop the complexity of thought required at each stage of their organization's development.

Results through carefully crafted marketing strategies that create a real competitive advantage.

At Global Partners, we create results through all of our business processes.

opportunity

AT GLOBAL PARTNERS, WE CREATE RESULTS THROUGH OUR EDUCATION.

Education that teaches individuals and organizations how to achieve desired end-results.

Education that teaches people how to use the creative process to achieve what truly matters to them.

Education such as "Creating What Matters" that was custom developed by Robert Fritz, the founder of structural consulting, to teach individuals how to create a sustainable organization.

We create results through education, facilitated by our staff of highly experienced, dynamic facilitators. Facilitators dedicated to optimal learning for each and every participant. Learning that meets individual needs. Learning that matters most. To you.

We create results through education that makes it easier for people to succeed at whatever they want. Education that teaches you to build on your successes. Education that helps you develop high performance leaders who can effectively team.

vision

At Global Partners, we create results through education that leads to measurable, sustainable growth for organizations and individuals.

confidence

AT GLOBAL PARTNERS, WE CREATE RESULTS FOR A WIDE RANGE OF INDIVIDUALS AND ORGANIZATIONS ACROSS THE GLOBE.

Field leaders such as Michael DiMuccio:

Global Partners research has contributed to bringing a new level of professionalism to our industry. Their education and business processes make building a field leadership organization predictable. The foundation for this highly creative work is to integrate a common knowledge base and language such that it can synergistically align multiple visions and action plans. This is most critical in an industry that promotes individuality and self-expression, particularly in meeting organizational goals.

Michael DiMuccio, Chairman, Team Diamond Field Leaders Association, Nikken

Field leaders such as David and Sam Goodhand:

Your foresight in bringing dignity and respect to the industry (re-inventing it) has given me and many other leaders a mission and a stronger vision than ever before. Your personal coaching and mentoring, along with the business process, has caused an explosion in our organization. And to think, this is just the beginning!

David Goodhand, Vice Chairman, North American Field Advisory Board, Enrich International

Senior corporate executives such as Sandy Vinson:

I have used the full range of Global Partners' services to increase the growth of two organizations. I can count on Global Partners to provide a complete system for developing high performance leaders that can create and manage profitable organizations.

Sandy Vinson, Senior Vice-President of Sales North America, New Vision & evisionLink.com
